

Hands-on science

Holy Trinity School grade six future scientists cleverly fashion animal cells from ordinary household items. Jell-o, golf balls, pasta, fruit, sponges, plastic eggs were utilized to create plant and animal cell models.

Hands-on-science may lead to the creation of future genetisists.

Michael and Mae are fully engrossed in the art of observation.

